

→ injection path (solid): advice is projected into the edge features and the graph is run again.

- - -> output fusion (dashed): the same judgement also reaches the final classifier directly.

The isolation experiment disables this path, so advice can only arrive through the injection path.

  vermillion marks the one example edge traced above; grey is the 85.5% of edges that never enter the loop.